

Panda Software's GateDefender Successfully Integrates with Zix Corporation's Email Encryption ServicesGateDefender works seamlessly in-line with ZixCorp's services

DALLAS — March 2, 2006 — Zix Corporation (ZixCorp®), (Nasdaq: ZIXI), the leader in hosted services for email encryption and e-prescribing, today announced that Panda Software's GateDefender successfully integrates with Zix Corporation's email encryption services. ZixCorp has entered into a technology alliance agreement with Panda Software, a leading provider of integrated security solutions, which enables Panda Software customers to seamlessly connect with ZixCorp's email encryption services and vice versa.

After extensive testing, Panda's GateDefender product has proven compatible with ZixCorp's email encryption services. ZixCorp's services provide easy-to-deploy, enterprise-wide email encryption, security, content filtering, and management of corporate email for privacy and compliance. GateDefender is a high-scalability appliance that provides protection at the Internet gateway, blocking viruses, spam, and undesirable content before it enters or leaves the enterprise.

"We believe this is just the beginning of a mutually beneficial partnership with ZixCorp," said Gerald Toumayan, GateDefender product manager. "By combining our Internet security products with ZixCorp's email encryption services, our customers have an integrated solution for protecting users' privacy for their networks and communications. We're thrilled to be working together."

Panda Software is an innovation and research leader. The company includes Panda Labs, which releases real-time updates to users and provides 24-hour, year-round response to threats worldwide. The company sells its products and services to consumers and businesses globally, with a network of three subsidiaries in the U.S., Spain, and France, a joint venture in China, and over 50 offices throughout the world.

"As one of the most interoperable email encryption services, ZixCorp is working with top-notch security vendors like Panda Software to provide companies with the best combination of offerings possible," said Rick Spurr, chief executive officer for ZixCorp. "We are rapidly growing our channels and alliances, as demonstrated in our recent announcements with Postini, PortAuthority Technologies, SecureWorks, and Symantec for best-of-breed, seamless security solutions."
