ZixCorp to Exhibit at HIMSS '06

Company to demonstrate encrypted email delivery and exhibit e-prescribing technology

DALLAS — Feb. 10, 2006 — Zix Corporation (ZixCorp®), (Nasdaq: ZIXI), a global provider of secure e-messaging and e-prescribing services, today announced it will be exhibiting its PocketScript® e-prescribing solution at Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society's HIMSS '06 Annual Conference and Exhibition Feb. 12-16, 2006. In addition, ZixCorp reseller Fusion Network Systems will present a demonstration of ZixCorp's email encryption services in conjunction with Alcatel's OMNI PCX Platform.

Starting at the Alcatel booth (#424), which is designed to replicate a hospital setting, visitors will be able to experience the entire encrypted email process, beginning with creation. From there, participants move to the ZixCorp booth (#814) for delivery and details on encryption policies and technologies. Both ZixCorp and Alcatel representatives will be on hand for questions.
