Tetra Tech Acquires Ardaman & Associates, Inc.

Pasadena, California. Tetra Tech, Inc. (NASDAQ: TTEK) announced today the acquisition of Ardaman & Associates, Inc., a consulting and engineering firm that specializes in hydrogeology and civil engineering. Ardaman & Associates has more than 360 employees located throughout Florida, and has been providing technical services for over 40 years. Ardaman & Associates had annual gross revenue of approximately $34 million in 2001. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

Ardaman & Associates' services include consulting on complex earth sciences issues, water resources management and infrastructure design. The market in Florida is well suited to Tetra Tech's business strategy, because the State has many complex water resource challenges, the second highest number of threatened and endangered species in the U.S. and strong population growth.
