New Segment Reporting

July 15, 2013

GTECH New Segment Reporting

- Re-organization announced on January 24, 2013
  - Unified, customer-facing structure aligned around three global geographic regions, supported by a central Products and Services organization
- New Segment Reporting under IFRS effective for H1 2013 with three new segments: Americas, International and Italy
  - GTECH Lottery and Spielo International segments split by geography into Americas and International segments; Italy VLT within former Spielo International segment moved to the Italy segment
  - All costs associated with the central Products and Services organization are allocated to the three segments based on goods and services provided
  - Certain costs previously included in the Italian Operations segment were recharacterized to Corporate support
  - The step-up expenses related to the purchase accounting for the GTECH and other International acquisitions are accounted for separately in Corporate support
- GTECH will continue to report consolidated EBITDA for 2013 in-line with the guidance previously provided
- To better align our external financial communication, internal management reporting, and incentive structure, GTECH intends to gradually migrate its key profitability and guidance metric from EBITDA to Operating Income before certain items such as asset impairments, restructuring expenses and step-up
- Restated pro forma unaudited segment Revenues, EBITDA, and Operating Income for 2012 follow
