COMPANY OVERVIEW

Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc., through its subsidiaries, is one of North America's largest producers of recreational vehicles and manufactured homes. The Company, founded in 1950, had its initial public offering in 1965. This Fortune 1000 company, headquartered in Riverside, California, is dedicated to providing quality, innovative products that offer exceptional value to its customers.

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

Company successfully refinanced $100 million in debt in December 2008 through a combination of three-year securities and stock.

Andy Griffiths succeeded Boyd Plowman as CFO in September 2008.

New modular division, Trendsetter Homes, has been chosen to provide living units for several military base housing projects and multi-family development projects.

Fleetwood's RV Group launched the new Power Bridge Chassis™, introduced two new ultralight travel trailers (Backpack & Compass), and redesigned its popular Terry travel trailer and fifth wheel (Terry LX) products.

RECENT PRODUCT INNOVATIONS

Created with every RVer's needs in mind, the all-new Power Bridge Chassis™ features enormous storage space, more functionality and the smoothest ride in the industry. Power Bridge Chassis is available on five of Fleetwood's Class A diesel motor homes: Providence, Excursion, Discovery, Expedition and Bounder Diesel.
