Dear Medley Capital Stockholder:

I would like to take a moment to respond to some of the frequently asked questions we have been receiving regarding the proposed merger between Medley Capital Corporation ("MCC") and Sierra Income Corporation ("Sierra"), and Sierra's acquisition of Medley Management Inc. ("MDLY"), and explain why MCC's Board of Directors and the special committee comprised solely of its independent directors (the "Special Committee") believe the MCC merger is in your best interests.

WHAT IS THE RATIONALE FOR THIS TRANSACTION AND WHY SHOULD YOU VOTE FOR IT?

The mergers will create a new investment management firm with significant scale and approximately $4.8 billion¹ in assets under management that is well-positioned for sustainable and profitable growth.

Specifically, the Mergers are expected to:

- Increase earnings and your distribution for the twelve months following the Mergers;
- Create the second largest internally-managed business development company ("BDC");
- Enhance liquidity for stockholders with potential for index inclusion;
- Strengthen the combined company's balance sheet and improve portfolio diversification;
- Streamline corporate structure and reduce operating costs; and
- Position the business to capture premium valuation as internally managed BDCs have traded at a premium price to net asset value multiple vs externally managed BDCs of 64.7%, 63.3% and 59.3% over a one-, three- and five-year period, respectively.²

¹ As of September 30, 2018.

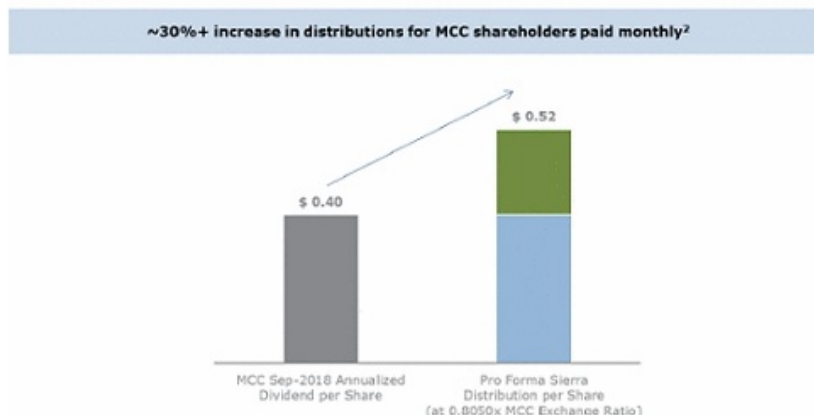

Source: Management, Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus, MCC filings, Sierra filings.

² Based on Bloomberg, CapitalIQ and IBES as of January 2, 2019. Externally-managed BDCs include: BKCC, CPTA, FDUS, GAIN, MRCC, OCSI, SUNS, TCRD, TPVG (defined as externally-managed BDCs with $500 million - $1 billion in total assets); Internally-managed BDCs include: MAIN and HTGC.

IS THIS TRANSACTION ACCRETIVE? WILL IT PROTECT OR INCREASE MY DISTRIBUTION?

This transaction is expected to be highly accretive to MCC earnings and result in distributions for stockholders that may increase over time. In fact, while there can be no assurances, MCC stockholders are expected to receive a 30% increase in monthly distributions following the close of the transaction, as the combined company's new structure allows you to benefit from certain expected operational efficiencies and an expected lower cost of capital.

Expected Increase in Distributions Per Share to Stockholders

WHAT WILL THE NEW COMBINED COMPANY LOOK LIKE FOLLOWING THE TRANSACTION? HOW WILL IT ENHANCE MY INVESTMENT?

The combined company is expected to have the following attributes:

- $2 billion of assets on its balance sheet with more than $1.1 billion of net asset value and a large asset management subsidiary that we believe is well-positioned for future growth³;
- Significantly greater market capitalization and potentially increased liquidity;
- Increased size and diversification of the combined portfolio, which we believe will provide broader access to the capital markets and lower costs of capital;
- Expanded solutions for borrowers and partners and a greater array of financing options;
- Improved credit quality expected as measured by non-accruing loans; and
- Stronger alignment between management and stockholders, with five of six directors being independent.

² As disclosed in MCC's Proxy Statement, Sierra expects the Combined Company's distribution for the first twelve months following the closing of the Mergers will be $0.055 per share per month, which will consist of a regular base distribution per share of $0.045 and a supplementary distribution per share of $0.010. However, the combined company's board of directors, in its sole discretion, will determine the amount of cash to be distributed to the Combined Company's stockholders based on various factors including, but not limited to, its results of operations, cash flow and capital requirements, economic conditions, tax considerations, borrowing capacity and other factors, including debt covenant restrictions that may impose limitations on cash payments, future acquisitions and divestitures and any stock repurchase program. Consequently, the Combined Company's distribution levels may not be as disclosed and may fluctuate.

³ As of September 30, 2018.

WHY IS THIS TRANSACTION IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF ALL STOCKHOLDERS?

This transaction is the outcome of a comprehensive, independent process to maximize value for all stockholders. Based upon the recommendation of its respective Special Committee, the Boards of Directors for MCC, Sierra and MDLY unanimously recommend that its respective stockholders vote “FOR” the MCC merger and MDLY merger, as applicable.

In forming its Special Committee, MCC’s Board of Directors granted the Special Committee broad authority to consider all available alternatives. As part of its evaluation, the MCC Special Committee considered the financial terms, risks/challenges, timing and uncertainties of standalone alternatives available to MCC. The MCC Special Committee determined that the proposed MCC merger was in the best interests of MCC Stockholders and unanimously recommended that the MCC Board approve the MCC merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the MCC merger.

Importantly, management will roll over approximately 100% of their after tax proceeds in connection with the transaction into shares of the combined company’s common stock. These shares will be subject to a 12-month lock-up period, which will more closely align the interests of management and the combined company’s stockholders.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE PROPOSED TRANSACTION IS NOT APPROVED?

The potential risks are substantial for all stockholders and may include:

- Potential continued declines in net income, which could adversely affect dividends paid by MCC as a standalone company going forward;
- Continued greater valuation discount associated with status quo;
- MCC ratings downgrade;
- Increased standalone credit risk compared to the combined company; and
- Standalone business that is less efficient than the combined company.
