Link Net and GTN Join Hands to Launch First Media Business

Dear Friends of Link Net,

Link Net, a pay-TV and broadband internet provider, signed a memorandum of understanding with Multipolar technology's data center unit Graha Teknologi Nusantara (GTN) for its newly launched product, First Media Business, at the Indonesia Internet Expo & Summit 2016 in Jakarta on Wednesday (23/11).

The two companies will have joint promotions, where Link Net will make GTN's data center services available on First Media Business, and vice versa. First Media Business provides faster internet connection for small to big enterprises.

"Our participation in the Indonesia Internet Expo & Summit 2016 shows our commitment to include the corporate segment. We see great potential for this segment to grow. That is why we joined hands with Lippo Group companies, one of which is GTN Data Center to give comprehensive broadband internet services for the business sector," Link Net president director Irwan Djaja said.

He said First Media Business is ready to operate in big cities, especially the greater Jakarta area.

Link Net operation director Edward Sanusi also added "During the first nine months of 2016, the corporate segment contributed 16 percent to total revenue, which we hope will increase in the future,"
