TD AMERITRADE TO ACQUIRE THINKORSWIM

*Creates Industry-Leading Trader Platform
Introduces State-of-the-Art Education Program to nearly Seven Million Retail Client Accounts
#1 in Equity Trades, #1 in Options Trades⁽¹⁾*

Omaha, Neb. and New York, NY – January 8, 2009 – TD AMERITRADE (NASDAQ: AMTD) and thinkorswim Group Inc. (NASDAQ: SWIM) today announced that they have entered into a definitive agreement for TD AMERITRADE to acquire thinkorswim in a cash and stock deal valued at approximately $606 million as of Jan. 7, 2009.⁽²⁾ This acquisition underscores TD AMERITRADE's position as a successful industry consolidator.

thinkorswim is among the fastest growing online brokerage firms and has unique trading and investor education capabilities, particularly for the fastest growing segment of the industry – options trading.⁽³⁾ Over the 12-month period ended Sept. 30, 2008, the company generated $380 million in revenue and $87 million in pre-tax income. It has approximately 87,000 funded retail brokerage accounts, each placing approximately 176 trades per year, more than $3 billion in client assets and more than 375,000 education graduates.⁽⁴⁾

Extending our Market Share Leadership

TD AMERITRADE is the current industry leader in the number of equity trades placed each day, and thinkorswim currently leads the industry in retail options trades placed each day. The combination of these two complementary firms will enhance the Company's position, making TD AMERITRADE the new industry leader in the number of options trades placed each day.⁽¹⁾

Advancing our Growth Strategy

This deal advances TD AMERITRADE's growth strategy for its active trader client segment by introducing new trading functionality for traders, including advanced options trading, futures, foreign exchange trading and portfolio margining. TD AMERITRADE is uniquely positioned to leverage the Investools education offering as an acquisition channel and to help deepen the relationships it has with its nearly seven million existing retail client accounts. The Company plans to expand the offering over time to include programs for long-term investing, helping to further drive its asset gathering strategy.

“This transaction is directly aligned with our growth strategy, creating scale for the trading side of our business and, more importantly, advancing our trading strategy by several years,” said Fred Tomczyk, president and chief executive officer at TD AMERITRADE. “The thinkorswim team is very talented, and their innovative approach has led to outstanding achievements in technology and education. Together, we will extend our leadership in the industry with a best-in-class platform for traders, investors and registered investment advisors.

“We have a strong, stable balance sheet. We are well-capitalized. We have strong cash flow – all of which put us in a unique position to be opportunistic in the current economic environment,” Fred Tomczyk continued. “This transaction will improve our competitive standing in several key areas and position us for greater success and enhanced growth prospects. It is consistent with our strategy to improve our competitive position in this environment and manage for the other side of the cycle.”

“We are excited about this transaction with TD AMERITRADE, as it will provide a premium to our current share price for our shareholders and access to a wider range of Web and software-based trading and education technology for our clients. It is also an opportunity for our employees to contribute to accelerated growth at TD AMERITRADE,” said Lee Barba, chairman and chief executive officer of thinkorswim. “We believe this combination will enhance the Company’s leadership position in the investment services industry by providing the kind of highly compelling trading technology and education-based services that investors demand in today’s rapidly moving markets.”

This combination will add a fast-growing, highly active and engaged group of thinkorswim traders to the TD AMERITRADE family, which is reflected in the data highlighted below:⁽⁴⁾
