J. Joseph Kim, President and CEO of Viral Genomix, chosen as one of 40 exceptional professionals by the Philadelphia Business Journal. The 40 under 40 awards is a unique listing of the regions' most dynamic business leaders who are under the age of 40. 40 under 40 awards honor this new generation of men and women who are making headlines in their field. Dr. Kim was chosen as an individual whose commitment to business growth, professional excellence and his community - that look most likely to set the agenda for this region in the next decade.

The inaugural 40 under 40 program is hosted by Philadelphia Business Journal and a group of sponsor partners, each a high profile corporate leader or from an organization that understands the importance of encouraging tomorrow's decision makers through their own leadership in the process of public recognition of this group.

All winners selected in the program's inaugural year will receive a prestige 40 under 40 award to be showcased at a Banquet being hosted by Philadelphia Business Journal on the 23rd April 2002.
