ALLIANCE SEMICONDUCTOR CORPORATION Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(unaudited)

Note 1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of Alliance Semiconductor Corporation and its subsidiaries (the "Company", "we", "us", "ours" or "Alliance") have been prepared in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Certain information and footnote disclosures, normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, have been condensed or omitted in accordance with such rules and regulations. In the opinion of management, the unaudited interim consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring items, which in the opinion of management are necessary to present fairly the consolidated financial position of us and our consolidated results of operations and cash flows.

The year-end condensed consolidated balance sheet data was derived from audited financial statements. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 29, 2007.

The results of operations for the nine months ended December 31, 2007 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2008, or any future period and we make no representations related thereto.

In fiscal 2007 the Company sold substantially all of the assets and certain of the liabilities of its operating business units and exited the semiconductor industry, and sold our interest in the Alliance Ventures investment portfolio and Solar Venture Partners. Accordingly, we show any un-transferred assets of these operating units and investments as Assets Held for Sale as of December 31, 2007, and their operating results and gain/loss on disposal are reported as Discontinued Operations for the reporting period, in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" ("SFAS 144").

Note 2. Balance Sheet Components

Short-term Investments

Short-term investments are accounted for in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities" ("SFAS 115"). Management determines the appropriate categorization of investment securities at the time of purchase and re-evaluates such designation as of each balance sheet date. Management has the ability and intent, if necessary, to liquidate non-restricted investments in order to meet our liquidity needs within the normal operating cycle. At December 31, 2007 and March 31, 2007, equity securities with no restrictions on sale or that have restrictions that expire within the next year, are designated as available-for-sale in accordance with SFAS 115 and reported at fair market value with the related unrealized gains and losses, net of taxes, included in stockholders' equity. Realized gains and losses and declines in value of securities judged to be other than temporary, are included in interest and other income, net. The fair value of the Company's investments in equity securities is based on quoted market prices. Realized gains and losses are computed using the specific identification method. Short-term marketable securities are carried at cost.

Short-term investments include the following at December 31, 2007 and March 31, 2007 (in thousands):

The sale included all investments except our interest in Selby Ventures II and a partial interest in certain escrow proceeds from prior sale of our interests in two investee companies. During the three-months ended December 31, 2007, we sold our interest in Selby Ventures II for $1.6M. The remaining balance represents the estimated value of our holdings in Spheris stock.

As discussed in Note 2, Balance Sheet Components, accumulated other comprehensive income consists of the accumulated unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale investments, net of tax.

Note 4. Net Income Per Share

Basic income per share is computed by dividing net income available to common stockholders (numerator) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding (denominator) during the period. Diluted income per share gives effect to all potentially dilutive common shares outstanding during the period including stock options, using the treasury stock method. In computing diluted income per share, the average stock price for the period is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the proceeds obtained upon exercise of stock options.

The computations for basic and diluted income per share are presented below (in thousands, except per share amounts):

Note 5. Commitments and Contingencies

We apply the disclosure provisions of FASB Interpretation No.45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others," to our agreements that contain guarantee or indemnification clauses. These disclosure provisions expand those required by SFAS 5, "Accounting for Contingencies," by requiring that guarantors disclose certain types of guarantees, even if the likelihood of requiring the guarantor's performance is remote.

Note 6. Income Tax

In the first nine months of fiscal 2007 we did not recognize any federal or state tax benefits from our losses in Continuing Operations and Discontinued Operations as we were not certain that we would have income in the future to use such benefits. We have provided for $95,000 in alternative minimum tax in the first nine months of fiscal 2008 for our gains in Continuing and Discontinued Operations.

In the first nine months of fiscal 2008 deferred tax assets and liabilities (including the portion reported in Assets Held for Sale and Liabilities Related to Assets Held for Sale) remained substantially unchanged.

Separately, we have been subject to an audit by the Internal Revenue Service with respect to fiscal tax years 1999 through 2002. Alliance and the Internal Revenue Service lodged final decision documents with the United States Tax Court, signed and entered by the judge on February 7, 2008, concluding their dispute in accordance with the terms of the Stipulation of Settled Issues previously filed with the Court and described in Form 8-Ks filed on July 6, 2007 and January 10, 2008. Pursuant to the decision documents, Alliance will receive a tax refund of approximately $6.6 million plus interest for the 2001 tax year. As previously announced, as a result of the settlement no additional taxes will be owed by Alliance for its taxable years 1999 through 2002, but Alliance's net operating losses will be reduced. During the quarter ended December 31, 2007 we reversed $34.5 million previously accrued for taxes and recognized the refund of $6.6 million we will receive in accordance with the settlement. See "IRS Petition" under Item 1 in Part II for more information.

Effective at the beginning of fiscal 2008, we adopted the provisions of FIN 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes — an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109." FIN 48 contains a two-step approach to recognizing and measuring uncertain tax positions accounted for in accordance with SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement.

As a result of the implementation of FIN 48 we made no changes to our tax liability or deferred taxes.

We retain substantial net operating losses. However, can not provide assurance that we will be able to utilize our net operating losses in the future, and we have fully reserved against them. In addition, as described above, our net operating losses will be reduced in accordance with our settlement with the Internal Revenue Service.

Note 7. Legal Matters

(a) SRAM Class Actions

In October and November 2006, we and other companies in the semiconductor industry were named as defendants in a number of purported antitrust class action lawsuits filed in federal district courts in California and other states, and in Canada. The Company was served in some but not all of these actions. The lawsuits purport to state claims on behalf of direct and indirect purchasers of SRAM products based on an alleged conspiracy between manufacturers of SRAM devices to fix or control the price of SRAM during the period January 1, 1998 through December 31, 2005. The Company denies all allegations of wrongful activity.

Based on agreements to preserve evidence and toll the statute of limitations until January 10, 2009, the plaintiffs in the United States litigation voluntarily dismissed Alliance from the litigation without prejudice. Alliance intends to seek dismissals on similar terms of the litigation currently pending in Canada. At this time, we do not believe these lawsuits will have a material adverse effect on the company.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Certain information contained in or incorporated by reference in the following Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and elsewhere in this Report contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. These statements relate to products, trends, liquidity and markets. These forward-looking statements are based on management's estimates, projections and assumptions as of the date hereof and include the assumptions that underlie such statements. In some cases, forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "estimate," "potential," or "continue," the negative of these terms or other comparable terminology. Such forward-looking statements include statements regarding an expected tax refund for the 2001 tax year. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including, but not limited to, our ability to have cash resources for continued operations, fluctuations in the value and liquidity of securities we own, and those described in the section entitled "Risk Factors". Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which reflect our present expectations and analysis and are inherently susceptible to uncertainty and changes in circumstances. These forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this Report. We assume no obligation to update these forward-looking statements to reflect actual results or changes in factors or assumptions affecting such forward-looking statements. The following information should be read in conjunction with the "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" section of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 29, 2007.

OVERVIEW

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, we sold substantially all of the assets and liabilities of our operating business units and exited the semiconductor industry, and sold our interests in the Alliance Ventures investment portfolio and Solar Venture Partners. Our activities now focus on realizing the value in our remaining investments and completing the closedown of the now unused operating entities remaining. The income reported in this Quarterly Report resulted primarily from the reversal of a reserve for a potential federal tax liability, in accordance with the settlement of a dispute with the Internal Revenue Service, as described in more detail below under "Results of Discontinued Operations - Provision (Benefit) for Income Tax."

INVESTMENTS

Tower Semiconductor Ltd.

At December 31, 2007, we owned 3,929,828 ordinary shares of Tower Semiconductor Ltd. ("Tower"), all of which were classified as short-term and $51,000 Tower Debentures which are convertible into 36,385 Tower ordinary shares. These shares and debentures are accounted for as available-for-sale marketable securities in accordance with SFAS 115.

Tower's ordinary shares have historically experienced periods of significant decrease in market value and fluctuations in market value. For example, the price of Tower shares rose to as high as $1.86 during fiscal 2007, and then during the nine months ended December 31, 2007 Tower share prices declined to as low as $1.22 and rose to as high as $1.90. Given this volatility, there can be no assurance that our investment in Tower shares will not decline in value.

We are able to sell, transfer or dispose of our Tower shares in accordance with Rule 144 or another applicable exemption from the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Until recently that generally limited us to selling no more than 1% of the outstanding Tower shares during any 3 month period. We were also subject to contractual sale restrictions that terminated in January 2008. Currently we hold only 4.0% of the outstanding Tower shares as of December 31, 2007 and are no longer an affiliate of Tower, which allows us to sell our remaining Tower holdings without regard to the volume limitations of Rule 144.

During the quarter and nine months ended December 31, 2007 we sold 992,085 Tower shares for $1.7 million and 2,219,585 Tower shares for $3.5 million, respectively, and recorded a gain of $150,000, and $87,000, respectively

Our investment in Tower is subject to inherent risks, including those associated with certain Israeli regulatory requirements, political unrest and financing difficulties, which could harm our business and financial condition. There can be no assurances that our investment in Tower shares will not decline in value.

Gain/Loss on Investments

During the quarter ended December 31, 2007 we sold 992,085 Tower shares for a gain of 150,000. We also recorded a decrease in the book value of our Tower shares and debentures to current market values of $5.5 million, which is reflected in a change in Other Comprehensive Income on our Balance Sheet net of $0.6 million in tax. For the nine months ended December 31, 2007 we sold 2,219,585 Tower shares for a gain of $87,000 and recorded a decrease of $1.5 million in the book value of our Tower shares and debentures, which is reflected in Other Comprehensive Income on our Balance Sheet net of $600,000 tax.

Other Income

Other income for the three months ended December 31, 2007 represents interest income of $3.0 million, and net foreign tax expense of $300,000. In the first nine months of fiscal 2008 and 2007, other income reflected interest income of $6.6 million compared to $2.1 million in 2006 due to higher invested amounts, investment loss of $300,000 compared to $7.1 million in 2006 as a result of divesting our venture investment portfolio, realized holding gain of $400,000 vs. $1.3 million in 2007 due to market conditions, foreign exchange gain of $400,000 versus zero in 2006, and $1.3 million gain from non-recurring sale of patents in 2007.

RESULTS OF DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

Equity in Gain/Loss of Investees

As a result of our entry into a plan to dispose of Alliance Ventures prior to the reported period, its results are reported under discontinued operations. Results for Solar Ventures are also reported under discontinued operations. Our proportionate share in the net gain/loss of the equity investees of Alliance Ventures and Solar Ventures was zero for the three months ended December 31, 2007 and $1.8 million and $25,000 losses, respectively for the comparable period in fiscal 2007. Our proportionate share in the losses of the equity investees of Alliance Ventures and Solar Ventures was approximately $250,000 and zero, respectively, for the nine months ended December 31, 2007, and $4.9 million and $237,000, respectively for the nine months ended December 31, 2006. We took impairment write-downs on Alliance Ventures Investments of zero and approximately $1.4 million during the third quarter of fiscal 2008 and 2007, respectively. We have recorded a full valuation allowance on the deferred tax assets related to these equity losses due to our inability to forecast future liquidity events and the related realization of the tax benefits. During the three-months ended December 31, 2007, we sold Selby Ventures II for its net realizable value of $1.6 million.

Provision (Benefit) for Income Tax

For the first nine months of fiscal 2008 and 2007, we recorded $95,000 and zero income tax expense on pre-tax profits from continuing and discontinued operations before minority interest in consolidated subsidiaries. The statutory rate differs from the effective rate as a result of losses taken on non-operating, investing activities for which tax benefits are not recognized.

Separately, we have been subject to an audit by the Internal Revenue Service with respect to fiscal tax years 1999 through 2002. Alliance and the Internal Revenue Service lodged final decision documents with the United States Tax Court, signed and entered by the judge on February 7, 2008, concluding their dispute in accordance with the terms of the Stipulation of Settled Issues previously filed with the Court and described in Form 8-Ks filed on July 6, 2007 and January 10, 2008. Pursuant to the decision documents, Alliance will receive a tax refund of approximately $6.6 million plus interest for the 2001 tax year. As previously announced, as a result of the settlement no additional taxes will be owed by Alliance for its taxable years 1999 through 2002, but Alliance's net operating losses will be reduced. During the quarter ended December 31, 2007 we reversed $34.5 million previously accrued for taxes and recognized the refund of $6.6 million we will receive in accordance with the settlement . See "IRS Petition" under Item 1 in Part II for more information.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

At December 31, 2007, we had approximately $9.5 million in cash, and cash equivalents, a decrease of $41.4 million from December 31, 2006 and $64.9 million in short-term investments, an increase of approximately $58.0 million from December 31, 2006. We had approximately $98.4 million in working capital at December 31, 2007, an increase of approximately $51.8 million from $46.6 million at December 31, 2006.

In addition, at December 31, 2007 we held $59.4 million in asset-backed securities issued by sub-trusts of two master trusts, Anchorage Finance Master Trust and Dutch Harbor Finance Master Trust, The rate of interest paid on these securities is determined at auctions generally scheduled every 28 days. If the amount of securities submitted for sale exceeds the amount of purchase orders in a particular auction, the result is a lack of liquidity and the maximum distribution rate of interest that can result from that auction. This has been the case with respect to recent auctions, including the auctions held during the three months ended December 31, 2007, and we cannot provide assurance as to when the liquidity in the regularly scheduled auctions will be restored. (see Item 1A. Risk Factors in Part II of this report). According to the offering memorandum for the asset-backed securities, an investment manager invests the eligible assets held by the sub-trusts in a diversified portfolio of highly rated commercial paper. We currently do not believe there is significant default risk associated with the investment portfolio held by the sub-trusts. Ambac Assurance, Inc. has the right to compel the liquidation of the portfolio of eligible assets held by the sub-trusts and compel the sub-trusts to purchase Ambac Assurance preferred stock. All interest payments due on the asset-backed securities have been timely made.

Notwithstanding the recent illiquidity of the asset-backed securities we hold, we expect that, given our remaining cash reserves, our ongoing sale of Tower shares, and our anticipated refund from the settlement of our dispute with the IRS, our cash will be sufficient to meet our projected working capital and other cash requirements.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

There are no material off-balance sheet commitments at December 31, 2007.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT MARKET RISK

We do not hold any derivative financial instruments for trading purposes at December 31, 2007.

INVESTMENT RISK

We hold shares in Tower Semiconductor which are traded on both the Israeli and NASDAQ stock exchanges. Our investment in Tower is subject to inherent risks, including those associated with certain Israeli regulatory requirements, political unrest, financing difficulties and litigation matters which could harm our business and financial condition. Tower's ordinary shares have historically experienced periods of significant decrease in market value and fluctuations in market value.

We are able to sell, transfer or dispose of our Tower shares in accordance with agreements with other founding shareholders under Rule 144 or another applicable exemption from the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

In addition, at December 31, 2007 we held $59.4 million in asset-backed securities issued by sub-trusts of two master trusts, Anchorage Finance Master Trust and Dutch Harbor Finance Master Trust. The rate of interest paid on these securities is determined at auctions generally scheduled every 28 days. If the amount of securities submitted for sale exceeds the amount of purchase orders in a particular auction, the result is a lack of liquidity and the maximum distribution rate of interest that can result from that auction. This has been the case with respect to recent auctions, including the auctions held during the three months ended December 31, 2007, and we cannot provide assurance as to when the liquidity in the regularly scheduled auctions will be restored (see Item 1A. Risk Factors in Part II of this report). According to the offering memorandum for the asset-backed securities, an investment manager invests the eligible assets held by the sub-trusts in a diversified portfolio of highly rated commercial paper. We currently do not believe there is significant default risk associated with the investment portfolio held by the sub-trusts. Ambac Assurance, Inc. has the right to compel the liquidation of the portfolio of eligible assets held by the sub-trusts and compel the sub-trusts to purchase Ambac Assurance preferred stock. All interest payments due on the asset-backed securities have been timely made.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

(a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures.

The Company conducted an evaluation, with the participation of its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, as of December 31, 2007. Based on this evaluation, our management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of December 31, 2007. The Company's disclosure controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported on a timely basis.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during our most recently completed fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Part II — Other Information

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

IRS Petition

On December 21, 2005 the Internal Revenue Service issued to the Company a Notice of Deficiency asserting that the Company was liable for additional taxes in the approximate amount of $26.8 million. The Company filed a Petition in the United States Tax Court contesting the determination made by the IRS. The Company previously conservatively estimated and reserved $33.5 million to cover the tax, penalty and interest which could be due should the IRS prevail in its determination. On June 28, 2007, the parties filed a Stipulation of Settled Issues with the Tax Court. Following a challenge of the stipulated settlement by the IRS, counsel for the IRS advised the Tax Court that the IRS would abide by the terms of the settlement. The parties lodged final decision documents with the United States Tax Court, signed and entered by the judge on February 7, 2008, concluding their dispute in accordance with the terms of the stipulated settlement. Pursuant to the decision documents, Alliance will receive a tax refund of approximately $6.6 million plus interest for the 2001 tax year. As previously disclosed, as a result of the settlement no additional taxes will be owed by Alliance for its taxable years 1999 through 2002, but Alliance's net operating losses will be reduced

SRAM Class Actions

In October and November 2006, we and other companies in the semiconductor industry were named as defendants in a number of purported antitrust class action lawsuits filed in federal district courts in California and other states, and in Canada. The Company was served in some but not all of these actions. The lawsuits purport to state claims on behalf of direct and indirect purchasers of SRAM products based on an alleged conspiracy between manufacturers of SRAM devices to fix or control the price of SRAM during the period January 1, 1998 through December 31, 2005. The Company denies all allegations of wrongful activity.

Based on an agreement to preserve evidence and toll the statute of limitations until January 10, 2009, the plaintiffs in the United States litigation voluntarily dismissed Alliance from the litigation without prejudice. Alliance intends to seek dismissals on similar terms of the litigation currently pending in Canada. At this time, we do not believe these lawsuits will have a material adverse effect on the company.

We are party to various legal proceedings and claims, either asserted or unasserted, which arise in the ordinary course of business. While the outcome of these claims cannot be predicted with certainty, we do not believe that the outcome of any of these or any of the above mentioned legal matters would have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

In addition to the factors discussed elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, the following are important factors which could cause actual results or events to differ materially from those contained in any forward looking statements made by or on behalf of Alliance Semiconductor.

We are subject to certain contingent liabilities that may limit our available cash resources.

Although we believe that our current cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments will be sufficient to fund our needs for at least the current fiscal year, we are subject to contingent liabilities which may affect our liquidity or limit our available cash resources.

We have been named as one of many defendants in a class action suit alleging that we, in concert with the other defendants, conspired to fix prices for the sale of SRAM products. Although we have subsequently sold this business and we currently do not believe these lawsuits will have a material adverse effect on the company, we may incur significant legal costs and may not be able to be excused from this proceeding, which could limit our liquidity. In addition, we cannot provide assurances regarding the outcome of these lawsuits.

We hold securities which have experienced significant fluctuations in value and liquidity.

We have held, and continue to hold, investments in equity securities which are subject to significant fluctuation in value and trading volume. Tower's ordinary shares have historically experienced fluctuations in market value, including periods of significant decrease in market value. For example, during the nine months ended December 31, 2007 Tower share prices declined to as low as $0.74 and rose to as high as $1.90. Our investment in Tower is subject to inherent risks, including those associated with certain Israeli regulatory requirements, political unrest and financing difficulties, which could harm Tower's business and financial condition. We cannot be certain that our investment in these securities will not decline further in value.

In addition, at December 31, 2007 we held asset-backed securities issued by sub-trusts of two master trusts, Anchorage Finance Master Trust and Dutch Harbor Finance Master Trust. The rate of interest paid on these securities is determined at auctions generally scheduled every 28 days. If sufficient clearing bids are not made in a particular auction, that can result in the inability to liquidate the asset-backed securities in the auction. This has been the case with respect to recent auctions, including the auctions held during the three months ended December 31, 2007, and we cannot provide assurance as to when liquidity in the regularly scheduled auctions will be restored. See "Investment Risk" under Item 3. of Part 1. for more information.

Our financial condition is likely to fluctuate and failure to meet financial expectations for any period may cause our stock price to decline.

Our revenue has historically been subject to fluctuations due to a variety of factors, including general economic conditions. As discussed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed March 31, 2007, we have sold each of our operating business units, and have exited the semiconductor business that had previously characterized our company. Also, we have completed the sale of our Alliance Venture Investments portfolio and our interest in Solar Venture Partners. As a result, we believe that period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations are not necessarily meaningful, and you should not rely on these comparisons as indications of future performance. These factors, together with the fact that our expense is primarily fixed and independent of revenue in any particular period, may cause our income to be below market analysts' expectations in some future quarters, which could cause the market price of our stock to decline significantly. Other factors that could affect our stock price, in addition to performance, are:

- changes in financial estimates or investment recommendations by securities analysts following our business;
- announcements by us of significant transactions;
- changes in economic and capital market conditions;
- changes in business regulatory conditions; and
- the trading volume of our common stock.

Compliance with changing regulation of corporate governance and public disclosure may result in additional expense.

We are committed to maintaining high standards of corporate governance and public disclosure. As a result, we have invested, and we intend to continue to invest resources to comply with evolving laws, regulations and standards, and this investment may result in increased general and administrative expense and a diversion of management time and attention to compliance activities.

For example, as directed by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, the SEC adopted rules requiring us as a public company to include a report in our Annual Report on Form 10-K that contains an assessment by management of the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting for fiscal 2008. In addition, our independent registered public accountants must attest to and report on the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting, a requirement that we expect based on currently proposed rules may apply to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010. How companies implement these requirements, including internal control revisions, if any, to comply with Section 404's requirements, and how independent public accountants will apply these new requirements and test companies' internal controls, are continually evolving. Although we are diligently and vigorously reviewing our internal controls over financial reporting to comply with Section 404 requirements, we cannot be certain as to the outcome of the testing of our internal controls and any remediation efforts that may be needed.

We may be unable to attract and retain key personnel who are critical to the success of our business.

The changes in our business have caused us to reduce our staff to a level commensurate with our current business activity. If we were to lose key members of our small staff, we could be adversely affected. If we were to use our resources to acquire an operating business, our future success would depend on our ability to attract and retain qualified management and finance personnel for which competition is intense globally. Additionally, limited human resources and untimely turnovers in staff may result in difficulties in implementing our policies and procedures including those related to our internal controls. We are not insured against the loss of any of our key employees, nor can we assure the successful recruitment of new and replacement personnel.
