Enigma of Stock Trading Who is buying your stock?

Expert to identify what's behind technical stock behavior and share liquidity.

Tim Quast is founder and managing director of Modern IR. Before launching Modern IR, Quast was the first investor relations officer for SureWest Communications. Previously, he was co-founder, president and chief operating officer for a retail investor relations services company, Informed Investors Inc. Quast began his capital markets career in boutique investment banking at QBF Management Co., a British Virgin Islands private banking firm.

During the luncheon, Quast will share a presentation entitled, "Brave New World of Stock Surveillance - How Quant Trading Impacts Your Stock." He will discuss tracking and understanding the supply and demand market forces that determine a company's share volatility. Key points he will cover include: fundamentals of the market structure; a new type of shareholder surveillance in identifying algorithmic trading and effects of options expirations; and, convertible hedging on stock performance.
