Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Micky Arison commenting on these results:

Carnival Corporation & plc Chairman and CEO Micky Arison noted the first quarter continued the trend seen in recent quarters of strong growth in cruise revenue yields from the company's European cruise brands offsetting pricing weakness in the Caribbean.

"The Caribbean remains the world's top cruising region, with excellent year-round weather, beautiful beaches, great shopping and a welcome hospitality – all within easy reach of millions of North American vacationers," Arison noted. "Despite a soft pricing environment in this segment, we'll carry a record number of guests to the Caribbean this year," he added.

Arison further noted, "Booking trends for the Caribbean over the past few weeks indicate that consumers are recognizing the extraordinary value of warm water cruises."

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CARNIVAL CORPORATION & PLC REPORTS FIRST QUARTER EARNINGS

MIAMI (March 16, 2007) – Carnival Corporation & plc (NYSE/LSE: CCL; NYSE: CUK) reported net income of $283 million, or $0.35 diluted EPS, on revenues of $2.69 billion for its first quarter ended February 28, 2007. Net income for the first quarter of 2006 was $251 million, or $0.31 diluted EPS, on revenues of $2.46 billion.

First quarter revenues increased by 9.1 percent driven by a 7.4 percent increase in cruise capacity and a 1.7 percent increase in gross cruise revenue yields (revenue per available lower berth day). Net revenue yields for the first quarter of 2007 increased 0.3 percent compared to the prior year. Adjusting for the effect of movement in currency exchange rates, net revenue yields as measured on a local currency basis (“constant dollar basis”) decreased 2.1 percent compared to the same period last year.

Net cruise costs per available lower berth day (“ALBD”) for the first quarter of 2007 increased 1.3 percent compared to costs for the same period last year. On a constant dollar basis, net cruise costs per ALBD decreased 1.3 percent from the same period last year. Gross cruise costs per ALBD increased 2.9 percent compared to the prior year.

Carnival Corporation & plc Chairman and CEO Micky Arison noted the first quarter continued the trend seen in recent quarters of strong growth in cruise revenue yields from the company’s European cruise brands offsetting pricing weakness in the Caribbean.

“The Caribbean remains the world’s top cruising region, with excellent year-round weather, beautiful beaches, great shopping and a welcome hospitality – all within easy reach of millions of North American vacationers,” Arison noted. “Despite a soft pricing environment in this segment, we’ll carry a record number of guests to the Caribbean this year,” he added.

Arison further noted, “Booking trends for the Caribbean over the past few weeks indicate that consumers are recognizing the extraordinary value of warm water cruises.”

In mid-February, the company indicated that bookings since the beginning of January through February 4 were up over last year but less than its 2007 capacity increase. Since that time, the company has noted a significant increase in booking volumes over the prior year with the increase well above the 2007 capacity increase, especially for Carnival Cruise Lines' Caribbean programs, although pricing is below last year's levels.

Outlook for 2007

On a cumulative basis, occupancy on a capacity adjusted basis for advance bookings taken for the last nine months of 2007 is slightly ahead of last year. Pricing on a cumulative basis is down slightly compared to last year (down 2 percent in constant dollars).

Based on current internal forecasts, the company continues to expect net revenue yields for full year 2007 to be flat to up slightly (down 1 to 2 percent on a constant dollar basis), compared to last year. Net cruise costs per ALBD for 2007 are expected to be flat to up slightly (down 1 to 2 percent on a constant dollar basis), compared to 2006. The company's cost guidance for fuel is based on the current forward curve for the last nine months of 2007 of $318 per metric ton, compared to an average price of $341 per metric ton for the last nine months of 2006. The company's guidance is also based on currency exchange rates of $1.32 to the euro and $1.94 to sterling. The company continues to expect earnings in 2007 to be in the range of $2.90 to $3.10 per share, compared to $2.77 per share in 2006.

For the second quarter of 2007, the company expects net revenue yields to be down slightly (down approximately 2 to 3 percent on a constant dollar basis), compared to last year. Net cruise costs per ALBD in the second quarter of 2007 are expected to be approximately the same as 2006 (down 1 to 2 percent on a constant dollar basis). Based on these estimates, the company expects that diluted earnings per share for the second quarter of 2007 will be in the range of $0.45 to $0.47, compared to $0.46 in the second quarter of 2006. The 2007 guidance includes the impact of the previously announced cancelled voyages, which are expected to reduce second quarter earnings by approximately $0.02 per share.

In recent months Carnival has embarked on a number of initiatives to increase its presence globally. In Spain, the company has signed a letter of intent to form a joint venture with Iberojet, Spain's largest travel company, which is expected to be completed in 2007. The joint venture, which will be 75 percent owned by Carnival, will operate Iberojet's current fleet of two modern cruise ships under the Ibero Cruise brand. The joint venture plans to grow that fleet over the next several years through the acquisition of existing tonnage from Carnival Corporation & plc's current fleet.

The previously announced letter of intent to form a joint venture with TUI AG, the world's largest tour operator, is expected to close during 2007. The proposed joint venture will develop, market and operate two cruise brands – Carnival's existing AIDA Cruises and a new TUI Cruises brand aimed at a more mature clientele – both designed for the German-speaking holiday market.

Also, the proposed sale of the Windstar Cruises brand, a unit of Holland America Line, to Ambassadors International Inc., is expected to close in the second quarter of 2007 for $100 million. The sale of Windstar is a strategic move allowing the company to focus on its core growth brands.

All of the above noted transactions are subject to regulatory approvals, including approval by competition authorities.

(1) Passengers carried in 2006 does not include any passengers for the three ships chartered to the Military Sealift Command (“MSC”) in connection with the Hurricane Katrina relief efforts.

(2) Available lower berth days is a standard measure of passenger capacity for the period. It assumes that each cabin we offer for sale accommodates two passengers. ALBDs are computed by multiplying passenger capacity by revenue-producing ship operating days in the period.

(3) Occupancy percentage in 2006 includes the three ships chartered to the MSC at 100% occupancy.

(4) Fuel cost per metric ton is calculated by dividing the cost of our fuel by the number of metric tons consumed.

NOTES TO NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

- (1) We use net cruise revenues per ALBD (“net revenue yields”) and net cruise costs per ALBD as significant non-GAAP financial measures of our cruise segment financial performance. We believe that net revenue yields are commonly used in the cruise industry to measure a company’s cruise segment revenue performance. This measure is also used for revenue management purposes. In calculating net revenue yields, we use “net cruise revenues” rather than “gross cruise revenues.” We believe that net cruise revenues is a more meaningful measure in determining revenue yield than gross cruise revenues because it reflects the cruise revenues earned by us net of our most significant variable costs, which are travel agent commissions, cost of air transportation and certain other variable direct costs associated with onboard revenues. Substantially all of our remaining cruise costs are largely fixed once our ship capacity levels have been determined, except for the impact of changing prices.

Net cruise costs per ALBD is the most significant measure we use to monitor our cruise segment costs rather than gross cruise costs per ALBD. In calculating net cruise costs, we exclude the same variable costs that are included in the calculation of net cruise revenues. This is done to avoid duplicating these variable costs in these two non-GAAP financial measures.

We have not provided estimates of future gross revenue yields or future gross cruise costs per ALBD because the reconciliations of forecasted net cruise revenues to forecasted gross cruise revenues or forecasted net cruise costs to forecasted cruise operating expenses would require us to forecast, with reasonable accuracy, the amount of air and other transportation costs that our forecasted cruise passengers would elect to purchase from us (the "air/sea mix"). Since the forecasting of future air/sea mix involves several significant variables that are relatively difficult to forecast and the revenues from the sale of air and other transportation approximate the costs of providing that transportation, management focuses primarily on forecasts of net cruise revenues and costs rather than gross cruise revenues and costs. This does not impact, in any material respect, our ability to forecast our future results, as any variation in the air/sea mix has no material impact on our forecasted net cruise revenues or forecasted net cruise costs. As such, management does not believe that this reconciling information would be meaningful.

We also monitor these two non-GAAP financial measures assuming the 2007 currency exchange rates have remained constant with the 2006 comparable period rates, or on a “constant dollar basis,” in order to remove the impact of changes in exchange rates on our non-U.S. dollar cruise operations. We believe that this is a useful measure indicating the actual growth of our operations in a fluctuating currency exchange rate environment. On a constant dollar basis, net cruise revenues and net cruise costs would be $2.04 billion and $1.43 billion for the three months ended February 28, 2007, respectively. On a constant dollar basis, gross cruise revenues and gross cruise costs would be $2.60 billion and $1.99 billion for the three months ended February 28, 2007, respectively. In addition, our non-U.S. cruise operations depreciation and net interest expense were impacted by changes in exchange rates for the three months ended February 28, 2007, compared to the same period in 2006.
