

Baidu Announces Unaudited Financial Results for Second Quarter of 2005 Continued Growth and Focused Investments in Chinese Search

BEIJING, China, August 23, 2005 – Baidu.com, Inc. (NASDAQ: BIDU), the leading Chinese language Internet search provider, today announced unaudited financial results for the quarter ended June 30, 2005¹. It is Baidu's first earnings announcement since its listing on the NASDAQ National Market on August 5, 2005.

According to Alexa.com, Baidu.com was the 6th largest website globally for the three months period ended August 23, 2005 and the 4th largest website globally for the one week period ended August 23, 2005, as measured by user traffic that reflects page views and reach during the applicable period.

Highlights of Second Quarter of 2005

- Total revenues increased to RMB69.7 million ($8.4 million), representing a 52.6% growth from the previous quarter and a 188.6% growth from the corresponding year in 2004.
- Net income increased to RMB12.1 million ($1.5 million), representing a 381.8% growth from the previous quarter and a 625.5% growth from the corresponding period in 2004.
- The number of active online marketing customers increased to 41,248, representing a 29.8% growth from the previous quarter and a 142.6% growth from the corresponding period in 2004.
- Headcount increased by 103 persons to 750 persons, reflecting continued investments in research and development as well as sales and marketing.

"We are very pleased with the results of the second quarter, showing the continued, robust increase in revenues and expansion of our customer base. We are particularly excited that our dedication to enhancing user experience has attracted more and more users to use Baidu for their information needs," said Robin Li, Baidu's Chairman and CEO.

"Our recent successful IPO demonstrated strong investor confidence in the prospects of China's Internet search market, in our business model as well as in our management team. Going forward, we will continue to focus on Chinese language search," Robin Li added.

"China's online marketing sector, and the search-based pay-for-performance model in particular, is still at an early stage of development but is evolving rapidly. Baidu will continue to make focused investments in our products, technology and marketing in order to maintain our leadership position in this rapidly developing market and to provide the best search experience to Chinese Internet users," said Shawn Wang, Baidu's CFO.

Unaudited Financial Results for Second Quarter of 2005

Total net revenues for the second quarter of 2005 were RMB65.2 million ($7.9 million), representing a 52.9% increase from the previous quarter and a 185.5% increase from the corresponding period in 2004.

Online marketing revenues for the second quarter of 2005 were RMB66.7 million ($8.1 million), representing a 55.1% increase from the previous quarter and a 211.9% increase from the corresponding period in 2004. The significant growth in the quarterly online marketing revenues was primarily attributable to the catch-up effect of the post-Chinese New Year holiday period, as well as Baidu's expanded marketing efforts which led to the increases in the number of active online marketing customers and revenue per online marketing customer. highlighted above, the number of active online marketing customers increased to 41,248, representing a 29.8% growth from the previous quarter and a 142.6% growth from the corresponding period in 2004. Average revenue per online marketing customer increased to RMB1,613.9 ($195), representing an 18.9% growth from the previous quarter and a 28.3% growth from the corresponding period in 2004.

Traffic acquisition cost was RMB4.3 million ($0.5 million), decreasing to 6.1% of total revenues from 11.4% in the corresponding period in 2004.

Selling and marketing expenses, as components of operating expenses, were RMB16.0 million ($1.9 million), representing an increase of 90.5% from the previous quarter and 225.3% from the corresponding quarter in 2004. The increases were primarily attributable to the increase in sales and marketing personnel and expanded marketing efforts.

Operating profit on a GAAP basis was RMB11.9 million ($1.4 million), representing a 336.8% increase from the previous quarter and 687.6% from the corresponding period in 2004. Operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB18.1 million ($2.2 million) for the second quarter of 2005, representing a 104.2% increase from the previous quarter and a 224.6% increase from the corresponding period in 2004.

Net income on a GAAP basis was RMB12.1 million ($1.5 million), representing a 381.8% increase from the previous quarter and a 625.5% increase from the corresponding period in 2004. Net income excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB18.2 million ($2.2 million) for the second quarter of 2005, a 110.8% increase from the previous quarter and a 218.0% increase from the corresponding period in 2004. Basic and diluted earnings per ADS for the second quarter of 2005 amounted to RMB0.99 ($0.12) and RMB0.39 ($0.05), respectively.

Adjusted EBITDA (non-GAAP), defined here as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, other non-operating income and share-based compensation expenses, was RMB24.8 million ($3.0 million) for the second quarter for 2005, representing a 75.7% increase from the previous quarter and a 235.1% increase from the corresponding period in 2004.

Capital expenditures (including acquisitions) totaled RMB15.6 million ($1.9 million) for the second quarter of 2005, representing a 200.4% increase from the corresponding period in 2004, as a result of our expanded expenditures on operational activities.

Cash and cash equivalents, as of June 30, 2005, amounted to RMB210.7 million ($25.5 million), up from RMB200.2 million ($24.2 million) as of March 31, 2005. Operating cash flow was RMB32.0 million ($3.9 million) for the second quarter of 2005, as compared to RMB14.8 million ($1.8 million) for the previous quarter and RMB13.0 million ($1.6 million) for the corresponding period in 2004.

Outlook for Third Quarter 2005²

Baidu currently expects to generate total revenues in an amount ranging from RMB77.4 million ($9.6 million) to RMB81.2 million ($10.0 million) for the third quarter of 2005, representing a 139-151% growth from the corresponding period in 2004. This forecast reflects only the company's current and preliminary view, which is subject to change.

Safe Harbor Statement

This announcement contains forward-looking statements. These statements are made under the "safe harbor" provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "will," "expects," "anticipates," "future," "intends," "plans," "believes," "estimates" and similar statements. Among other things, the business outlook and quotations from management in this announcement, as well as Baidu's strategic and operational plans, contain forward-looking statements. Baidu may also make written or oral forward-looking statements in its periodic reports to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on forms 20-F and 6-K, etc., in its annual report to shareholders, in press releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by its officers, directors or employees to third parties. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Baidu's beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement, including but not limited to the following: our growth strategies; our future business development, results of operations and financial condition; expected changes in our margins and certain cost or expense items as a percentage of our revenues; our ability to attract and retain users and customers; competition in the Chinese language Internet search market; the outcome of ongoing, or any future, litigation or arbitration, including those relating to copyright, patent and other intellectual property rights; the expected growth of the Chinese language Internet search market and the number of Internet and broadband users in China; and Chinese governmental policies relating to the Internet and Internet content providers. Further information regarding these and other risks is included in our registration statement on Form F-1, as amended, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Baidu does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement, except as required under applicable law.

About non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement Baidu's unaudited consolidated financial results presented in accordance with GAAP, Baidu uses the following measures defined as non-GAAP financial measures by the SEC: adjusted EBITDA, operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses and net income excluding share-based compensation expenses. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. For more information on these non-GAAP financial measures, please see the tables captioned "Reconciliations of non-GAAP results of operations measures to the nearest comparable GAAP measures" and "Reconciliation from net cash provided by operating activities to adjusted EBITDA" set forth at the back of this release.

Baidu believes that both management and investors benefit from referring to these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing the performance of Baidu's liquidity and when planning and forecasting future periods. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate management's internal comparisons to Baidu's historical liquidity. Baidu computes its non-GAAP financial measures using the same consistent method from quarter to quarter. The accompanying tables have more details on the GAAP financial measures that are most directly comparable to non-GAAP financial measures and the related reconciliations between these financial measures.
