BRONX, N.Y., Sept. 25 /PRNewswire/ -- Superstars Jennifer Lopez and Marc Anthony today kicked off ING Presents Jennifer Lopez & Marc Anthony En Concierto at PS36 Union Port School in the Bronx, with an event celebrating their mega-wattage concert tour and Lopez's first tour ever. The event also focused on the ING Run for Something Better and orange laces campaign, which supports community and school-based running programs for kids.

The Honorable Adolfo Carrion, Bronx Borough President was present to greet the artists along with students from PS36, former teachers, fans and executives from ING and Live Nation, who produce the tour. The artists left the school on their tour bus headed for the final days of rehearsals before they kick off with the first of 19 concerts, this Friday, September 28, at the Taj Mahal in Atlantic City. During the program at PS36 (K-5), the students ran a race, sang songs to Lopez and Anthony and presented them with gifts they had prepared in their classrooms.

Lopez and Anthony spoke about the importance of encouraging children to engage in running programs to build the healthy bodies and minds needed for a strong community. They emphasized the urgency of addressing the health crisis within the Latin community where obesity and diabetes are at crisis levels.

Funds raised from ticket sales and donations made during ING Presents Jennifer Lopez & Marc Anthony En Concierto tour will go to select schools with programs that promote the benefits of running, physical fitness, and healthy lifestyle choices. By contributing $10 or more, donors receive a special pair of orange shoelaces as a token to show they are "tied" to supporting fit kids. The NALEO (The National Association of Elected and Appointed Latino Officials) Education Fund, ING's charitable partner for the multi-city tour, will direct the funds into schools with high Latino enrollment. Carrion is President of NALEO.

The star power and performing prowess Lopez and Anthony bring to the tour is unequaled. Anthony is one of the most thrilling performers in contemporary music and will perform music from his extensive English and Spanish repertoire. Superstar Jennifer Lopez will be touring for the first time, and performing songs from her upcoming pop album Brave (October 9 on Epic Records), many of the greatest hits she's had in English, and also songs in Spanish from her album COMO AMA UNA MUJER.

About the ING Run for Something Better

The ING Run for Something Better is a fundraising campaign that supports community and school-based running programs. Linked to ING's long-distance race sponsorships, the program was created to introduce kids to the benefits of sport, a habit of physical fitness, and a healthy lifestyle that prevents conditions such as childhood obesity. In today's world of poor nutrition and less-active lifestyles -- which may contribute to childhood obesity -- ING is using its position as a sponsor of marathons worldwide as a platform for helping kids get fit through free school-based running programs. ING's goal is to invest in the health of American children by donating $2 million to running programs to get 500,000 kids running by 2010. ING has also created a special charitable fund to encourage others to support the cause by making their own contribution. When someone donates $10 or more to the ING Run for Something Better, ING will recognize their contribution by giving them a special pair of orange shoelaces to wear showing that they are "tied" to supporting kids' fitness. 100% of the proceeds from the sale of orange laces go to the ING Run for Something Better fitness programs. For more information about the orange laces, go to <http://www.orangelaces.com>.
