NEWMONT REALIZES $1.7 BILLION ON COMPLETION OF COMMON STOCK AND CONVERTIBLE DEBT OFFERINGS

Denver, February 3, 2009 — Newmont Mining Corporation (NYSE: NEM) (the “Company”) today announced that it has realized aggregate net proceeds of approximately $1.7 billion on the closing its public offerings of 34,500,000 shares of common stock and $517.5 million principal amount of 3.00% convertible senior notes due 2012 (including common stock and convertible senior notes issued upon the exercise in full of over-allotment options to the underwriters). The Company intends to use the net proceeds from the offerings to fund the acquisition of the remaining 33.33% interest in the Boddington project in Western Australia that the Company does not already own and the additional capital expenditures that will result from its increased ownership in the Boddington project, as well as for general corporate purposes.

Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. were the joint book-runners for the offerings, and BMO Capital Markets was the lead manager for the offerings.

Cautionary Statement

This news release contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which are intended to be covered by the safe harbor created by such sections and other applicable laws. Such forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements regarding completion and timing of the acquisition of the remaining interest in the Boddington project from AngloGold Ashanti Limited, and capital expenditures. Where the Company expresses or implies an expectation or belief as to future events or results, such expectation or belief is expressed in good faith and believed to have a reasonable basis. However, forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors, which could cause actual results to differ materially from future results expressed, projected or implied by such forward-looking statements. Such risks include, but are not limited to, gold and other metals price volatility, currency fluctuations, increased production costs and variances in ore grade or recovery rates from those assumed in mining plans, political and operational risks in the countries in which we operate, investor demand and governmental regulation and judicial outcomes. For a more detailed discussion of such risks and other factors, see the Company's 2007 Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed on February 21, 2008, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, filed on October 28, 2008, as well as the Company's other SEC filings. The Company does not undertake any obligation to release publicly revisions to any "forward-looking statement," to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this news release, or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events, except as may be required under applicable securities laws.
