

Operation: Careers for Veterans

As part of Jarden's ongoing support of our troops serving domestically and abroad, we initiated Operation: Careers for Veterans in 2007 to identify, consider and hire qualified veterans. Through this initiative we have partnered with the military branches as well as local One Stop Career Centers to inform transitioning Service members of our career opportunities in all of our businesses. We also participate in local job fairs and work with local veteran organizations where available.

To find our current career opportunities and to apply for any of our opportunities, please visit <http://erecruit.jarden.com> for a listing of positions at all of our businesses. Please note that to view Coleman's career opportunities you must click on "Coleman Careers" at the bottom of the page. If you are interested in learning more about our businesses please visit <http://www.jarden.com> and click on "Our Businesses" on the left side of the page.

We have a wide range of career opportunities in a wide range of geographic settings. Our career opportunities include product development, marketing, supply chain, sourcing, sales and finance just to name a few, and the locations of our facilities range from large metropolitan areas to small towns from the east to the west coasts.

If you have any questions regarding our initiative or would like to be involved in our initiative please contact Kim Ligon at kligon@jarden.com.
