Oh what a feeling!

Sims Aluminium has recently been successful in winning the “2006 Toyota Supplier Award” for supply excellence in the category of “Corporate Services and Materials”.

At an Awards ceremony in Melbourne, in which the “best of the best” suppliers to Toyota Australia are acknowledged for excellence in areas of quality, price, delivery and innovation, Sims Aluminium received its prestigious Award from Mr Ted Okada, President of Toyota Australia and Mr Rob Jakobi, Divisional Manager Purchasing as one of only six Award winners in the Presidents Achievement Awards.

Sims Aluminium is the sole supplier of specification secondary aluminium ingot and molten metal to Toyota’s Melbourne production facility for the production of aluminium die-cast parts for the locally built Aurion and Camry motor vehicles.
