

Jamie Holloway
TESSCO Technologies Incorporated
410.229.1123
Hollowayj@tessco.com

TESSCO Technologies Becomes Primary Distributor of WiDirect Appliances in North America and Asia

ANNAPOLIS, MD, February 17, 2009 – AllCity Wireless, a Maryland-based company that runs multiple wireless networks and provides services and logistics to the US Boat Shows, Presidential Addresses, and various NASCAR events, today announced its new business relationship with TESSCO Technologies Incorporated (Nasdaq:TESS), a value-added provider of the product and supply chain solutions needed to design, build, run, maintain, and use wireless systems.

The distribution agreement provides exclusive access to AllCity Wireless' WiDirect appliances for TESSCO's wireless system operators, program managers, contractors, resellers, and self-maintained utility, transportation, enterprise and government organizations. It also enables current AllCity customers to leverage TESSCO's complementary products, valued-added services, technical support and world-class customer service.

The addition of WiDirect from AllCity Wireless, specifically the WiFi portal controller and backend system, reflects TESSCO's commitment to expanding its total-source offering, as well as enables TESSCO customers to benefit from a product that has been designed to work in the field, not just in the lab.

AllCity Wireless President Philip McQuade commented, "Working with TESSCO seemed like a natural fit because they are right up the road. I have found that they are a very well run organization, and their expertise in distribution will undoubtedly take our company to the next level. I am very excited for the future."

About AllCity Wireless

AllCity Wireless is North America's premier provider of turn-key network solutions for the delivery of enterprise-class wireless broadband and municipal WiFi deployments. The WiDirect product line provides the back-office OSS software required to glue the business together in a scalable yet simple way to deploy, sell, and manage the user experience and the network itself in any sales model, be it advertisement, fee based, or a hybrid model. Information about AllCity Wireless can be found at all-citywireless.com.

About TESSCO

TESSCO Technologies Incorporated (Nasdaq: TESS) is a value-added provider of the product solutions needed to design, build, run, maintain and use wireless systems. TESSCO is committed to delivering, fast and complete, the product needs of wireless system operators, program managers, contractors, resellers, and self-maintained utility, transportation, enterprise and government organizations. As Your Total Source® provider of mobile and fixed-wireless network infrastructure products, mobile devices and accessories, and installation, test and maintenance equipment and supplies, TESSCO assures customers of on-time availability, while streamlining their supply chain process and lowering inventories and total costs. To learn more, please visit TESSCO.com.