Fundtech Named Among Top 100 Providers of Financial Technology Suppliers

Prestigious recognition reflects company's growth from innovative solutions

Jersey City, N.J., November 28, 2006 — Fundtech Ltd. (NASDAQ: FNDDT), a leading provider of end-to-end corporate banking software and services, today announced that American Banker and the research firm Financial Insights have included Fundtech in the FinTech 100, an international annual listing of the top vertical technology vendors serving the financial services industry.

"Our inclusion in the FinTech 100 for the third year in a row is one more testament to our leadership position in and commitment to the banking industry," said Michael Sgroee, president and COO of Fundtech.

Six out of the top 10 US banks, and 7 of the top 10 banks worldwide, use Fundtech solutions due to their strength of products and breadth of experience in payments, cash management and financial messaging.

Fundtech provides end-to-end solutions enabling financial institutions to clients and trade partners throughout the Financial Services Supply Chain. For information about the rankings, visit:
