Daniel G. Brudzynski

Vice President and Controller,
DTE Energy and Detroit Edison

Daniel G. Brudzynski, 40, is vice president and controller of both Detroit Edison, an electric utility serving 2.1 million customers in Southeastern Michigan, and its parent company, DTE Energy (NYSE: DTE), a diversified energy company involved in the development and management of energy-related businesses and services nationwide. He is responsible for an organization of 125 professionals encompassing all areas of accounting and finance.

Brudzynski joined DTE Energy and Detroit Edison in 1997 as the assistant controller. His responsibilities included all corporate related functions within the finance and accounting areas. His primary leadership duties included cultural change, championing process improvement and helping to redefine the financial role within the enterprise. He also was involved in the areas of corporate accounting, budgeting, forecasting, formation of the five-year Business Plan, corporate governance, board of director reporting and communication.

Brudzynski was the manager, forecasting redesign and implementation, at the Chrysler Corp., from 1984 to 1997, where he was responsible for the redesign and implementation of new world-class corporate forecasting processes and systems, encompassing the areas of profit, cash, inventory, balance and business planning. He also held several other positions in the finance area at Chrysler.

Brudzynski's professional experience also included working in the commercial lending division of First of America Bank as a commercial credit analyst, where he constructed lending proposals, and presented loan packages before executive committees for approval.

Brudzynski earned a bachelor of science degree in business with concentrations in finance and accounting from Wayne State University. He also earned a master's of business administration degree from the University of Detroit.

He is a member of the Financial Executives Institute, Detroit Chapter.

Brudzynski serves on the board of directors of Focus Hope.
