Paris, 12 April 2005 - JCDecaux SA (Euronext Paris: DEC), the number one outdoor advertising company in Europe and number two worldwide, announced today the results of the Affimétrie Street Furniture audience measurement study.

The results of the first audience measurement study demonstrate the power of our Street Furniture networks, despite the purely quantitative nature of the measure, which does not take into account the quality of the advertising displays.

A methodology now adapted to Street Furniture audience measurement

Since 2002, the Affimétrie methodology has improved significantly, enabling to take into account Street Furniture: the research now measures the audience in cities with a population of over 10,000 inhabitants, against +100,000 inhabitants in previous studies. As a result, the research now covers 450 cities versus 54. What's more, audience surveys are now carried out by telephone and traffic data is collected interactively using digital cartography.

JCDecaux's national Street Furniture networks are clear leaders on the market, showing outstanding results on all key indicators.

Audience levels among the population aged 15 and over, achieve record results in the outdoor advertising market:

Networks	Reach	Frequency
2m² (Bus shelter B)	83.5%	32.7
8m² (Senior® Major)	79.5%	23.0

JCDecaux's national Street Furniture networks, the benchmark for the market, also confirm their superior value-for-money with particularly attractive costs per 1,000 contacts compared with market standards for all panel sizes.

Networks	Cost per 1,000 contacts
2m² (Bus shelter)	€1.2
8m² (Senior®Major)	€1.9

Street Furniture networks demonstrate a true targeting ability

Even though Outdoor remains one of the only mass media in France, the Affimétrie audience results also confirm the excellent performance of JCDecaux 2m² targeted networks, which enable advertisers to reach valuable targets, such as high revenue individuals.
